Resolved, That a meeting of the Whigs of Washington
be called at the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday svening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing a delegate or delegates to the Whig National Convention at Baltimore, and that the chair appoint a committee of two from each
Ward to make the necessary arrangements.

The committee is composed of the following contlement. The committee is composed of the following gentlemen:

The committee is composed of the following gentlemen First Ward.—Thomas P. Morgan, Samuel E. Douglass. Second Ward.—Jas. O. Whitney, Washington Naylor. Third Ward.—John T. Towers, John Tretler. Fourth Ward.—Alexander Lee, W. T. Porter. Fifth Ward.—John P. Tucker, Jeremiah Hepburn. Sixth Ward.—John Sessford, Robert Clarke. Seventh Ward.—R. H. Stewart, B. F. Kinsey. The Whigs of Washington are accordingly invited to a semble at the time and place indicated by the resolution. By order of the Executive Committee

J. M. CARLISLE, Chairman. CHAS. MCNAMEE, Secretary.

To our Washington City Subscribers.

Your accounts are now ready for settlement at our office, (all except those of Capitol Hill and the Navy Yard,) and you are carnestly requested to call and settle your subscriptions forthwith. Mr. H. R. Wood will call on you as he has opportunity; but you will save trouble by calling as here requested. June 14, 1852—tf. The Whig National Convention. This Convention is necessary, because the Whigs of this Union do not all think entirely alike, but wish to act together. In going into Convention, they agree to hear each other's views, to deliberate, to make mutual demands and concessions, and finally to yield up ivdividual preferences, and to act as the majority may determine to be just, and prudent, and wise. This principle of compromise will apply not only to the selection of a candidate, but also to the question as to whether any, and, if any, what declaration of principles and measures shall be

For any delegate to enter this Convention with the preformed resolution to abide by its decrees only in the event of its adopting his choice of candidates, or his notions respecting a platform, would be as ridiculous and absurd as it certainly would be faithless and unjust.

Every party convention is a party compromise, made for the good of the party and the welfare of the nation; but there can be no such convention, no such compromise, without the acquiescence of objectors in the will of the majority.

Are we to have any differences on these subjects? Are any true Whigs of this Union going into the Convention for the purpose of acceding to nothing that conflicts with their own desires We trust not. We have read of such things in newspapers conducted by impetuous men, and in the over-ardent speeches of inflamed politicians : but we do not and cannot believe that any gentleman who has been deemed worthy to be a delethe place of holding the Convention with such purposes.

Religious Toleration.

Much is said in the newspapers on this subject just now, and we think rather absurdly; for we would as soon think of giving political support to the devil himself as to any man opposed to it. We do not think it a virtue so rare as to be boasted of by any one.

So far as we have seen any evidences on the subject, we are induced to believe that General Pierce did not agree with the bulk of his party in New Hampshire in opposing the granting to the Roman Catholics of that State the rights and privileges enjoyed by others; and it is but just that we should so declare. Would that it had been in his power to so far influence that party as to remove this burning disgrace from his State! The Democrats of New Hampshire, howwever, are held up to the people of the Union as "of the true faith," and "entitled to our confi-dence and respect." We do not think so. Bigotry and intolerance are sins we cannot overlook, and they hang like a dismal cloud above the horizon in that State-both religious and political bigotry. While elsewhere throughout the Union the progress of liberty, justice, and equality has banished almost every memorial of the darkness of the past, "the Democracy" of New Hampshire have preserved the sombre shades of tyranny and op-

It is to the false accusation made by Mr. Dallas against the Whigs, and so triumphantly disproved in the Intelligencer of a recent date, that we are indebted for the true revelations upon this subject. The oppression of the Roman Catholics in New Hampshire is the act of the Democrats of that State !

We seek no religious tests nor influences in politics; but a State is in disgrace, and the party cal the idea that General Scott, as the nominee perpetuating that disgrace alone shall be held

We are informed that the President's House will be open for the reception of visiters this evening, from 8 to 10 o'clock .- Rep.

A Hero Both Rich and Poor! In the city of Washington, the metropolis of our glorious Union, a gentleman resides, discharging the duties of a high governmental station, whose career has been singularly eventful and incomparably brilliant. He is known by the name of WINFIELD SCOTT. Our hero first saw the light in that renowned commonwealth, the mother of statesmen and of heroes, old Virginia. In person he is towering, and in manners he is bland and graceful. Availing himself in early life of the advantages of a classical and substantial education, followed up by extensive reading and close research, ever aiming at the acquisition of knowledge, he is reputed by judicious and discriminating friends to be a profound thinker, with a mind almost exuberantly stored with that which has been called "philosophy teaching by example." It has been his delight to plunge into every department of knowledge; but he has had a passion for the science of government. His attainments in this branch are declared by competent judges to be singularly extensive and rare. A gentleman from Virginia, of enlarged information, recently, in our presence, said that it was his opinion that Winfield Scott was one of the best-informed men in history and government in our country.

The mind of our subject in early manhood was engaged in the pursuit of legal attainments. He mastered the abstruse science of the law, and was licensed to practise his profession in the county of Dinwiddie, in Virginia. Soon after this, the unwarrantable and outrageous attack of the British vessel of war, the "Leopard," was made upon the United States frigate "Chesapeake." All of the old citizens of Virginia, and indeed of the whole country, well remember the intense and long-continued excitement which followed this outrage. Indignation was expressed on every countenance-the State and the country were tempest-tossed with anger. During this state of the public mind, the heart of young Scott was burning with patriotic indignation and longing for an opportunity for his countrymen to signally avenge the crying insult. A volunteer company was raised and equipped, to proceed to Norfolk, where a renewal of hostilities was expected. Our incipient hero enrolled his name as a member of this corps; and this was Winfield Scott's debut in military life.

It is known to all that this gifted young man and daring patriot, soon after this, during the administration of the pure-minded and accomplished Madison, entered the service of the United States as a captain of artillery. It is not our purpose to dilate upon his incomparable skill, his neroic acts, and his splendid achievements.

Winfield Scott is rich in talents, in attainments, n unsullied virtue, in enlarged philanthropy, in lofty honor, in burning patriotism, in splendid enown, and in the affections of his admiring countrymen. In wealth of this character he possesses a capital of unparalleled value. The reputed opulence of Crœsus, and the actual known wealth of the living Rothschilds, is valueless when compared to the worth, intellectual and moral, of this gifted and laureled son of the republic.

Winfield Scott is poor. Patriots, for the most part, in all ages, have been poor. Although for upwards of forty years he has been a devoted and shining public servant, he is houseless, landless, and moneyless. His aim has ever been to acquire fame, to sustain his honor unsullied, disdaining to employ his thoughts or his time in the acquisition of other riches.

Honor and glory are his capital; but he is not the possessor of ingots of gold or silver, or coin of those precious metals, or even of what Mr. Benton would call "evidences of debt," usually called bank notes. In that which is esteemed wealth by mercenary men he is poor indeed.

This hero both rich and poor has been named by his grateful countrymen for the most exalted States. We will not make a plaintive appeal to worth a trial, as an experiment involving no dangate in the Convention can deliberately approach that portion of our fellow-citizens upon whom gerous consequencs. fortune has frowned"-those who are poor in hero and the sage was long since consecrated in their hearts and embalmed in their affections. They are panting for an opportunity to evince upon his country's history.

Delegates to the Convention.

The Republic of this morning informs us that many delegates to the Whig National Convention have arrived in the city, and have attended at the several headquarters of the friends of the prominent Presidential candidates:" and adds: As far as we can learn, the Southern delegates are unanimous for Mr. Fillmore, in obedience to the expression of public sentiment in their section of the country. The Northern delegates are divided between Mr. Fillmore, General Scott, and Mr.

The latest telegraphic despatches from this city, published in the Baltimore and Northern papers of this morning, contain the following, which we believe to be equally reliable with the

"Webster's chances for the nomination are ecoming brighter every moment, and he is now openly talked of as the Compromise candidate. It is rumored here that, should the Convention be unable to select a candidate upon the first or econd ballot, President Fillmore has prepared a note to be read before the Convention. declining the nomination in favor of Mr. Webster.

The Vote of Kentucky.

We have seen and conversed with several gentlemen who are familiar with the sentiments of the people of this State, and with some who are just from there; and they all regard as nonsensiof the Convention, cannot carry it triumphantly. A gentleman near us has just received a letter from the Louisville district-from a gentleman who probably did more than any other man in that district to promote the election of its an adjourned meeting on Thursday evening next. present talented Representative, Hon. Humphrey Marshall-in which it is stated that Scott, in the position he is known to occupy, will be greeted with a loud and triumphant acclaim throughout that whole region!

BRIDGE OVER THE POTOMAC.-We understand that the Committee of Congress on the District of Columbia, with other gentlemen of Washington and Georgetown, on Saturday last made a personal survey of the Potomac river hence up to the Little Falls, with a view to a selection of the best site for a bridge or bridges to reconnect the Virginia shore with the District. Of the result of this examination we shall hear in good time.

Estimates of the Whig Vote in Conven-

The Baltimore Sun of this morning says that correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer makes the following estimate of the probable vote for a Presidential candidate in the Whig National Convention, to meet in Baltimore on

Let us examine this shrewd "probability. The following are the States on which the Whigs have to depend to elect their candidate for the Presidency in November next:

| | VOTES. | . vo | 11 |
|---------------|--------|--|-----|
| Massachusetts | . 13 | Ohio | 2 |
| Vermont | | Kentucky | 1: |
| Rhode Island | . 4 | Louisiana | - |

| Delaware | | 10 | |
| Maryland | . 8 | | 200 |

According to the above calculation, Messrs. Webster and Fillmore, combined, have only 78 otes out of the 162 which the Whig party can rely on carrying. But, by deducting the following votes, which are known to be for Gen. Scott in the States named, viz: Rhode Island, 1; Connecticut, 1; New York, 4; Pennsylvania, 2; Ohio, 1: Iowa, 1: California, 1; Wisconsin, 2-total 13 .- the combined vote of Messrs. Webster and Fillmore from the Whig States is only 60, while Gen. Scott has 102.

It were better to pay some respect to the voice of the Whig States. If South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, &c., cannot prove that they will cast their electoral votes for either Mr. Webster or Mr. Fillmore, the agency of their delegates in forcing one of these gentlemen upon us would be regretted by every true Whig in the Immigration.

We observe that the editors of the New Orleans Delta, in noticing the extensive immigration of the Chinese to California, significantly remark, that they are perfectly satisfied that before long the attention of the Louisiana planter will be coerced to the consideration of new and improved plans of management; and that among them, and in the very first rank, they expect to find this one of Chinese labor, which, in almost every respect, economy inclusive, is "superior to that now given by the African." We do not agree with riortune has frowned—those who are poor in property, but rich in intelligence, in patriotism, and in virtue—to bestow their suffrages upon Winfield Scott. It were a needless task. The and inevitable hatred, would be immeasurably more precarious, and would assuredly lead to the most disastrous results. Amalgamation is but their gratitude to the man who has shed a lustre degeneracy, were it even possible; and a separate classification would be but a state of perpetual

A Profitable Party Man!

An active and energetic politician, who pro fesses to belong to the Whig party, was asked by a Democratic member of Congress, the other day, whether he thought the Whig Convention would adopt the platform of his choice. His reply was, "Yes; or if they don't, we'll show you a party so torn to pieces that its fragments can never more be found!" We should have shuddered terribly, had we not known that this same gentleman when in the Democratic party, a few years ago failed in a similar attempt to show a party so torn to pieces that its fragments could never more

A Telling Speech.

Mr. Stanley, of North Carolina, made an able, spirited, and thrilling speech in the House of Representatives, on Saturday last, for a good report of which all eyes are directed to the Globe of to-morrow morning. We were not so fortunate as to hear this speech in the House, but are assured that it was at once a brilliant defence of General Scott, and a scathing rebuke of some of

Thomas F. Meagher.

On Friday evening last a number of the friends of Ireland in this city assembled at the Franklin Hotel, corner of D and 8th streets, for the purpose of adopting resolutions of congratulation to Mr. Meagher, and to declare their readiness to extend to him an honorable and hospitable welcome whenever he may see fit to visit Washington. A committee was appointed, who will report to

The resolution directing a select committee to inquire into the expediency of purchasing Catlin's collection of Indian portraits, &c.

The bill granting further remedies to patentees, was taken up and debated.

House of Representatives .- The House took up the bill granting lands to all the States, and equalizing such donations—the new States to appropriate their quota for railroads, and the old to educational purposes.

A motion to lay the bill upon the table was made, but did not prevail; and further proceedings upon the subject were cut short by the expiration of the morning hour.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Houston, of the Committee of Ways and Means, reported back, with amendments, the bill to establish a branch mint at San Francisco; pending which the House went into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union on the Indian appropriation bill.

A countryman was this morning asked how he and his Democratic neighbors in Maryland liked the new ticket. He shrugged his shoulders, and replied: "We make the most of it!" That is very sensible in him, though we do not think even "the most" will amount to much

AT Testimony of a Physician.—Extract of a letter dated Pittsburg, January 12th, 1852: "I will say that your Mustang Liniment is about the best Liniment I ever used. I have used it in my own case, along the lower part of the spine, for spinal irritation, with complete relief. I used it a few nights ago, when I was perfectly crooked, and my back in complete torture, from what the books would call Opisthotonic condition of the muscles, which you know is about as bad as 'lock-jaw.' It gave immediate relief; and in the morning I could bend like a gutta-percha man, and with as little pain. The medical profession, you know, have a great aversion to these kinds of remedies; but from a knowledge of the ingredients of the Mustang Liniment, I would have no hesitation in recommending it, wherever a emedy to relieve pain is indicated. I have recommended in a number of cases in my own practice, and, as far as I ean learn, it has acted with equal celerity and certainty as n my own case. Hoping that it may be used for and DRIVE AWAY pain wherever it exists, and that it may remunerate you well for your exertions in bringing so valuable a remedy before the public, I subscribe myself,

RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE

In the third week of June, 1852, will be comnenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly Campaign Newspaper, under the above title.

It will be devoted to the maintenance of genuine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States; to the preservation of the NATIONAL Union, and of the Rights of the States and the RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE under that Union: and in an especial manner to the election of GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT, as the nominee of the Whig National Convention, to the Presilency of this Republic.

It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a man around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor, and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country, will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages upon their honored fellow-citizen-the hero, the patriot, and sage—and to proclaim THE GRATITUDE OF A REPUBLIC!

THE RIGHTS OF THE PROPLE will be published nce a week-from the third week of June until the third week of November-at fifty cents.

Postmasters and others acting as voluntary gents, who may send five or more names, are authorized to reserve twenty-five per cent, for their trouble, or the advantage of this deduction may be shared by all the members of a club; and for each ten subscribers, on these terms, an eleventh copy will be also sent.

The notes of all specie-paying banks, gold, silver, and letter-stamps, will be received in payment. Address.

T. C. CONNOLLY,

Washington, D. C. MAY. 1852.
